

ISVS e-journal Editorial Board: Roles and Responsibilities

Editorial Advisors

Dr. Peter Kellett, UK

Prof. Kapila Silva, USA

Advising on journal aims and scope and future directions

Advising on making the links between the ISVS seminar, the Journal and the other activities

Lead the International Society for the Study of Vernacular Settlements in communication with the members.

Reviewing specific papers if and when needed.

Editor-in-Chief

Dr. Ranjith Dayaratne, Asian School of Knowledge, Sri Lanka and University of Bahrain, Bahrain.

Receipt of papers, Coordinate the review process,

Communicate with authors for revision and decisions.

Overall supervision, Final Editing Checking up, Manage the publication.

Prof. Pratyush Shanker, India

Review papers specific to the areas of interest

Coordinate the review of the papers that come from the Asian region in general, India in particular..

Prof. Sanjeev Singh, India

Review papers specific to the areas of interest

Coordinate the review of the papers that come from the Indian region.

Prof. Janaka Wijesundara, Sri Lanka

Review papers specific to the areas of interest such as urban vernacular

Coordinate the review of the papers that come from the South East Asian region.

Prof. Samitha Manawadu, Sri Lanka

Review papers specific to the areas of interest such as heritage and preservation

Prof. Aneela Naeem, Pakistan

Review papers specific to the areas of interest such as heritage and preservation

Prof. Bambang Sunarto, Indonesia

Review papers specific to the areas of interest such as performing and visual arts related vernacular practices.

Dr. Velika Ivkovska, Macedonia

Review papers specific to the areas of interest such as rural vernacular practices more related to buildings

Coordinate the review of the papers that come from the Eastern European region.

Dr. Nishan Wijetunga, USA

Review papers specific to the areas of interest such as those related to mainstream architectural practices that relate to vernacular and traditional architecture

Reviewers: To review the papers as and when requested.

Formatting and Production Assistant - Copy-editor ensuring appropriate professional linguistic expression

Kavindha Dayaratne

Editorial Secretary

Ms. Kumudini Thilani Abeyasinghe

Assist the Editor-in-Chief in communication