Dear Ranjith Dayaratne,

I am honored to submit my manuscript entitled "Orahua and Daro-Daro: Representation of the Cultural Identity of Nias People, North Sumatra, Indonesia" for consideration for publication as a case report in ISVS e-journal.

As a language and culture researcher at the Indonesian National Research and Innovation Agency, I focus on conducting research on language and culture in various places in Indonesia. Research conducted in Hilinawalo Batusalawa Village, Nias Island, North Sumatra, Indonesia added knowledge and research experience about one of the oral traditions and historical relics in the area.

I have conducted interviews with community leaders, traditional leaders, and community members in the village. This paper examines the existence and changes in orahua oral tradition and ancient architecture relics of the Daro-Daro megalithic age.

I declare that this manuscript is original and has never been published before. It is not currently being considered for publication elsewhere. No financial support was received for the study. This text has no conflict of interest with any party.

On behalf of the other authors, I agree to the final version of the manuscript and agree to be responsible for all aspects of this work.

Best regards,

Fatmahwati A

Dear FATMAWATI,
Thank you for your interest in the ISVS e-journal which is now published monthly. It is reviewed thoroughly. The journal is open access. We do not reject papers unless the paper is beyond any development. We help the authors to bring the papers up to the standards expected. Your paper falls well within the scope of the journal.

It will therefore go to review and the paper can be published in August 2024 or thereabouts
Please let me know if you have any questions.
Looking forward to hearing from you,

Dear Ranjith,

We have already seen the article "Oranua and Daro-Daro: Representation of the Cultural Identity of Nias People, North Sumatra, Indonesia" in the table of contents of ISVS e-journal, Vol. 11, Issue 04 April, 2024. We say thank you. However, please be willing Mr. Ranjith to revise the author's name:

First, Fatmawati A's name should be Fatmahwati A.

Second, please add another author's name as stated in the manuscript.

Third, apologies for the last author, Achril Zalmansyah, not accompanied by an e-mail. This is the e-mail zzalmansa@gmail.com. We are sorry about it. I appreciate your help.

Thanks.

Best regards,

Fatmahwati A.
